Learn About the Court and Tryout The New Touch Screen Computer Kiosk

Santa Ana, Ca. - New touchscreen computer kiosks designed to help the public access and file court documents and get legal forms at no cost will be showcased at the Orange County Superior Court's exhibit at the Orange County Fair on July 27, 28 and 29. Court staff will be available to provide information on traffic, family law, drug court and jury service.

"Everyone is invited to stop by and learn about the court and tryout these new computer kiosks," said Chief Executive Office Alan Slater. "Installation of these computer kiosks is part of an overall effort to utilize technology to give the public better access to the courts and improve efficiency."

The "I-Can" computer kiosk system, now available at various locations throughout the county, uses software the Legal Aid Society of Orange County developed, a touchscreen and interactive video, to walk people through the process of filing child support payment documents, restraining or eviction orders or small-claims forms. The video takes people step by step through the court system and helps them to understand the process.

The legal forms kiosks, currently available at the Central Justice Center in Santa Ana and at the Harbor Justice Center in Newport Beach, offers more than 500 legal forms that cover varied needs from Small Claims to Dissolution of Marriage. The kiosk's feature a touchscreen and is connected to a central server to ensure that the most up-to-date versions of the forms are dispensed at no charge. Legal forms are also available on the court's website at www.oc.ca.gov/superior.
